

Compliments of the Mary Opfer Team

Minor Kitchen Remodel: MINOR

In a functional but dated 200-square foot kitchen with 30 linear feet of cabinetry and countertops, leave cabinet boxes in place but replace fronts with new raised-panel wood doors and drawers. Replace wall oven and cooktop with energy-efficient models. Replace laminate countertops. Install mid-priced sink and faucet. Repaint trim, add wall covering, and replace existing flooring with resilient flooring.

Chicago Cost:	Chicago Resale Value:	117.8%
$16,534	$19,472

Midwest Cost Average:	Midwest Resale Value:	85.3%
$15,426	$13,151

Cost data for this report comes from HomeTech Information Systems, a remodeling estimating software company in Bethesda, MD. Current cost information from a nationwide network of remodeling contractors is collected and an adjustment factor is employed to account for regional price variations. Construction cost figures include labor, material, sub-trades, and contractor overhead and profit.

Resale values (“cost recouped” in the tables) are aggregated from estimates provided by National Association of Realtors members, including brokers, appraisers and sales associates.

If some remodeling job costs appear too high or too low, one cause is the leveling effect of averaging. The demand for – and cost of – remodeling services can vary greatly within a given metro area. Averaging also affects the value side of the equation. The amount recouped for an actual remodeling project depends on the condition of the rest of the house, availability of new homes, and the rate at which property values are changing. Location in an urban, suburban, or rural setting will also affect a home’s value. In some cases the value of a remodeling project at resale is more than 100% of its original cost. This can occur when buyers regard certain remodeling projects as “standard”. For example, in a neighborhood where most homes have an updated kitchen, remodeling a kitchen may well increase the resale value of the home beyond the cost of the construction. In some cases, in fact, not redoing a kitchen could cause the home to sit on the market for much longer than normal and to eventually sell for less than similar homes in the area. Keeping up with the Joneses can be a savvy investment move. But ultimately, the best reason for a remodel is to enjoy it. – Sal Alfano, editorial director of Remodeling Magazine and Christiana Hoffmann Spira, managing editor of Realtor Magazine

*The Mary Opfer Team
 Re/Max Unlimited Northwest
 362 NW Hwy
 Cary, IL 60013
 Office: 847-516-6333
www.teamcarygrove.com
 Email: mcdonaldmary@sbcglobal.net*